FRANCIS JOSEPH'S JUBILEE.

In honor of Emperor Francis Joseph's diamond jubilee Vienna was illuminated last night on a scale of unprecedented brilliance. The cathedral and city hall and all the public buildings were outfitted in electric lights, and the effect was enhanced by powerful searchlight and Bengel lights playing from the high towers.

The outer gate of the imperial Hofburg, the residence of the Austrian princes since the thirteenth century, bore a huge illuminated device of the imperial crown flanked by columns 70 feet high, which were covered with thousands of electric bulbs and surmounted by gas flambeaus. In the windows of all the private residences on every street were lighted candles.

The pressure of the enormous crowd in the streets caused several serious accidents. Three persons were killed and 60 or more injured, 25 of them seriously. At one time a panic ensued directly in front of the Hofburg, where the crowds converged from three directions.
Hundreds were trampled to the ground, among them being Parliamentary Deputy Holz and a woman, both of whom were crushed to death.

The emperor announces a partial amnesty and has conferred high decorations on Baron von Ashrental, the foreign minister, and the Austro-Hungarian ambassadors abroad.

The emperor was deeply affected by the unfortunate result of the day's rejoicings. The authorities took all possible precautionary measures, such as entirely stopping vehicular traffic after sunset, but were quite unable to cope with the enormous crowds. It is estimated that there were fully 1,500,000 people in the streets.

It is believed that in addition to the official list of killed and injured many others were injured but were able to reach their homes.

ILLUMINATIONS AND FESTIVITIES WERE GENERAL THROUGHOUT THE PROVINCE.

Today's Gazette names 3,400 persons in all classes who will receive titles, decorations and promotions in the jubilee.

RACERIOIS IN BOHEMIA.

The race riots between the Czechs and Germans in Prague are assuming the gravest character, and probably will compel a declaration of martial law.
The disturbances Monday were more serious than any of those which have taken place in the last few weeks, in bitter and open resistance to armed authority. Order was not restored until long after midnight. Twenty gundarmes and several police were injured by stones and a great number of the rioters were cut down.

The riot was resumed yesterday with even greater violence and dragons were called out to clear the streets. The Czechs offered a determined resistance.
They tore up paving stones to use as ammunition and wielded clubs and sticks with serious results to the police and soldiers. Imperial flags were torn and burned, and finally the troops drew their sabres and rode down the crowds, pursuing the rioters into the houses.

The British consul, Capt. A. W. W.
Forbes, was dragged from a tramcar and tied to a pole by the Czechs.

CONVICT PARDONED.

Harry Dodson, the Dickinson county convict, who escaped from the State farm and went to his mountain home to visit the grave of his mother, who died after he was sent to prison, is a free man, having been granted a conditional pardon by the governor. Dodson was sentenced for three years for housebreaking. While at the State farm he was informed of the death of his mother. He disappeared and returned to Dickinson, where he visited his mother's grave. He told his father of his escape and of the debt he had paid to the memory of his mother.
When he announced that he was ready to return to prison and complete his sentence the old man, bent with age and poor, disposed of his few possessions and accompanied him. The prison board, under the law, could do nothing but grant a year to the young man's term. Then the father made an appeal to the governor, who, after familiarizing himself with the circumstances, decided to give the boy an other chance. The governor declared the boy had exhibited traits which assured him there was some good in him.

SUICIDE AT WIFE'S GRAVE.

Depressed by an apparently uncontrollable melancholia, which had haunted him since the suicide of his wife on an ill-fated day, Friday, November 13, last, Dr. Randolph E. Hays, a New York dentist, yesterday ended his life by swallowing poison. He was kneeling on the grave of his wife in Woodlawn Cemetery as he drank the fatal potion and a watchman, who, some days ago, had prevented his suicide with a revolver on the same spot, was unable to reach him in time to prevent the accomplishment of the purpose yesterday.
Dr. Hays died within a few minutes.
He had led a heart-broken existence since the death of his wife and had daily visited and placed flowers upon the grave, had closed his home and gone to live with his sister-in-law, and had neglected his practice. Mrs. Hays was a remarkably beautiful woman and had been married but a short time.
